

EVERYDAY LEADERSHIP

Leadership for the Whole Team

Achieving Excellence

During this workshop, team members learn to respond to the changing nature of work and how to rethink their role at the company.

They learn to focus on outcomes and results, look for new ways to improve the business, and make deep connections with customers and colleagues.

By following the workshop principles, any team member can develop their everyday leadership skills.

Workshop Agenda

- Changing World of Work
- Everyday Leadership
- Take 100% Responsibility
- Create Value
- Make Connections
- Creativity and Innovation
- Be Courageous

With all the programs out there, we have found Monte Lewis to be an engaging presenter as well as providing relevant material that is easily integrated into our specific marketplace. Our participants give him very high ratings. I highly recommend that you attend one of his programs - you will be extremely happy that you did.

Bill Baltzersen, HVAC Wholesaler

Build A Winning Team

Every individual has a unique set of experiences and talents that can help their company grow and prosper. The success of the company is largely based on its ability to identify, capture and utilize the talents of everyone on the team. Many people think that leadership is the domain of a few, such as those who hold positions of authority. Upon closer inspection, leadership is more about relationships than hierarchical position.

In the world of work, relational leadership emerges at all levels and in all activities. It does not matter what your position, background or current role is--you are a leader. In any situation, you can take responsibility.

Sometimes, leadership is simply doing the ordinary in extraordinary ways. You do not need to wait or to be told. What you do matters. What you do (or don't do) influences others. Make no excuses. You are important, and your work is of consequence.